

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF USE

Public Computer and Internet Access - City of Greater Geraldton

To ensure that all users can access the wealth of information and services provided, we ask that you observe the following conditions of use.

COPYRIGHT AND CENSORSHIP

Internet and computer users are responsible for complying with all applicable international, federal and state laws, including censorship, copyright, and software licencing laws. Users agree to comply with all copyright laws and any applicable Federal and State legislation.

PARENTAL PERMISSION AND SUPERVISION

Library users under the age of 18 must have parent/legal guardian permission to use library computers and/or internet. It is the responsibility of the parent/guardian to ensure that the children in their care do not utilise the public access computers or Wi-Fi without their permission.

APPROPRIATE USE

Customers utilising public access computers/Library public Wi-Fi are requested to be sensitive to others when displaying potentially controversial or offensive material on computer screens in public areas.

LIBRARY STAFF

The City of Greater Geraldton Regional Library commits to providing access to computer and internet use, however, library staff are not able to provide comprehensive technical support. The City of Greater Geraldton Regional Library service is not responsible for any loss or damage occurring from the use of this resource, including accuracy or content of web site, technical difficulties, service interruptions or the transmission of computer viruses.

USER

Patrons must not damage, destroy or modify equipment, software or data belonging to the City of Greater Geraldton Regional Library, nor violate, or attempt to violate, any computer network's system security. It is the user's responsibility to ensure all documents are saved appropriately.

PENALTIES OF BREACH OF CONTRACT

The City of Greater Geraldton Regional Library service reserves the right to withdraw access immediately if "Terms and Conditions of Use" are breached.

Proceeding to utilise a public access internet terminal or the Library's Wireless Internet Access (Wi-Fi) is evidence of the fact that you have read, understood and accept these "Terms and Conditions of Use".

Please Note: Unfortunately we can no longer offer the Microsoft Office suite e.g. Word, Excel etc. This has now been replaced by OpenOffice. Please refer to this icon at the bottom of your screen. If you need help using OpenOffice please go to <http://www.tutorialsforopenoffice.org/>
