No. 1 Burial Ground (1889 - late 1895) (intersection of Crowther and Judge Streets) was not a consecrated cemetery. Burials at Mullewa Pioneer Cemetery (late 1895-1955) took place during a time when historical colonial practices meant that Aboriginal people were often buried in a separate area, known as the Native Section. This wording is reflected in the historical records below. This section is today known as the Yamatji Section.
